Kathleen

1897 - 1979

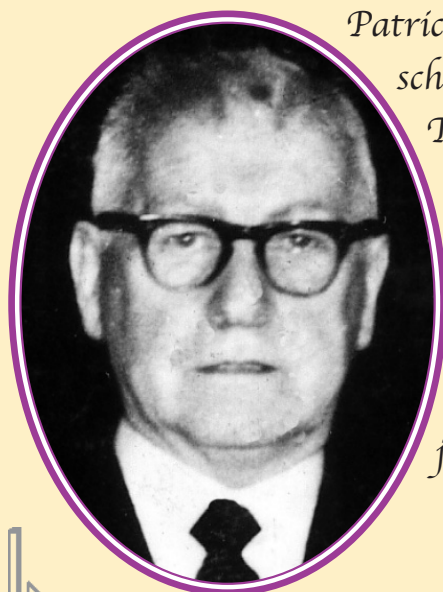

Children of Dominick Cullen & Mary Lyons

Kathleen Cullen was born on the 17th May 1897 - the third daughter born to Dominick and Mary Cullen. In her early years she is thought to have worked in the Cullen family's shop in Ballinlough town.

She met Patrick F. Greally, later to become a teacher at the local school she attended in Carrick, Ballinlough. They were married on the 8th December 1916 at Ballinlough Catholic Church. Her brother, Josie, was groomsman at the wedding, with Mary J. Greally as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Fr. Francis MacDermott P.P.

She is named on her marriage certificate as "Cathleen" and Patrick Greally is listed as a student. It is likely he was completing his teaching training at the time, before starting work at Carrick Primary School.

Patrick Greally was the third generation of his family to teach at that school, along with his father, Hugh, and grandfather respectively. The Greally family were from Lispatrick, near Knock in County Mayo.

Patrick Greally later transferred to a school in Knockcroghery in Co. Roscommon but was again transferred to Mount Nugent Primary School, County Cavan, in January 1928 and he was joined there shortly afterwards by his wife, Kathleen and family.
